Honours for CBC pupils

CHRISTIAN Brothers College held their annual student awards ceremony to recognise their pupils' academic and extra-curricular achievements.

More than 100 students received awards on the night in a range of categories.

Pupils from all years were included in the ceremony and were joined by their parents and relatives for the special event.

Gearóid O'Brien, teacher at the college, said the annual ceremony went very well and recognised the hard work put in by pupils.

Some of the awards included the Gretchen Crosbie Award for the Arts which was awarded to Daniel Lehane; the Fr Michael Whelan Award for Faith Development that went to pupils Simon Henley-Willis and Cian Kerrington; and the Kyle O'Dwyer award for Rugby that went to Peter Wilson.

The overall Br Reynolds Student of the Year award went to Mark Moriarty. The award is presented each year to the pupil who best embodies the spirit and philosophy of Christians.

A talented musician and student, Mark has travelled to Singapore, Iran and Vietnam as a member of the Irish team for the Physics Olympiad.

The guest speaker on the night was Carl Vaughan, consultant cardiologist at the Mercy Hospital.
